

Marianne Thompson

An extraordinary gift to the community

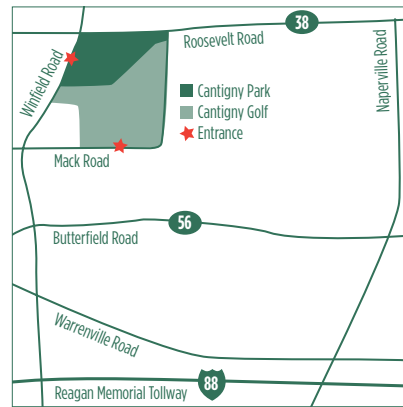

In his will, Robert R. McCormick specified that his beloved Cantigny estate be maintained "as a public park and museum for the recreation, instruction and welfare of the people of the State of Illinois."

Enjoy and support a local treasure

Cantigny Park was the home of Colonel Robert R. McCormick (1880–1955), long-time editor and publisher of the Chicago Tribune. He left his 500-acre estate to the community, and now you can enjoy his gift as a Cantigny Park member. In keeping with Colonel McCormick's wishes, Cantigny is a special place for both recreation and education.

During all four seasons, the park is a popular destination for festivals, workshops, concerts, banquets and weddings. Others just like to stroll in the spectacular gardens, soak up the history in our museums or challenge themselves on Cantigny's 27-hole championship golf course. The park has some tasty dining options, too!

With a Cantigny Park membership, you'll enjoy all of these things and more. Member benefits include unlimited free parking, restaurant and gift shop discounts and special prices on select ticketed events. All of the benefits are detailed in this brochure. At any level, you'll find Cantigny Park membership to be a great value!

Importantly, as a member, your contribution will preserve and strengthen a beloved "local treasure." Cantigny, part of the Robert R. McCormick Foundations, is committed to investing in the community by providing this exceptional venue for public enjoyment and learning. Your membership dollars will stay at the park and make us even better.

Thank you for supporting Cantigny Park. Please visit often!
